

NARROWRIDGE— A LESSON IN CONSERVATION

Submitted by SYDNEY, DAVID

This is an experience that everyone should have in their lifetime. It showed me how we have grown far way from nature and what we can do to help save the planet or at least make a difference. As individuals on this planet we continue the use and sometimes abuse/waste our natural resources. We could do so much in helping to save the earth. The use of solar energy and wind for power wells for water and house structures that make use of straw bales and the natural light really show innovation. Narrow ridge has given me a new perspective while awakening the appreciation for nature.
